- 57 companies (2.6%) in the Russell 3000 have failed

3

Vote of the Week

Oracle received a vote of 41%, a decline of 25% from 2011, amidst criticism from shareholders and their advisors over high relative and absolute CEO pay, problematic pay practices, and the Company's responsiveness to the 2011 Say on Pay proposal

4

Vote Results by Industry

Health Care companies have received proportionally less support than other industries, while Consumer Staple and Financial companies have received the most support

5

Vote Results and Market Value

There does not appear to be a strong correlation between a company's market value and Say on Pay vote result

6

How Vote Results Changed in 2012

Companies below 70% in 2011 have generally received increased vote support in 2012:

- 31 of 35 companies that failed in 2011 have passed in 2012
- Companies between 50-70% in 2011 have improved by an average of 13% in 2012

Vote results for companies above 90% in 2011 have decreased by an average of 3% in 2012

7

Impact of Proxy Advisors on Vote Results

ISS has recommended 'against' at 14% of companies it has assessed so far in 2012:

- This compares to approximately 12% in 2011
- On average, shareholder support was 30% lower at companies with an ISS 'against' in 2012

VOTE OF THE WEEK: ORACLE

- Oracle is the latest company to announce failing its Say on Pay vote. Oracle received 41% support from shareholders, which represents a year-over-year decrease of 25%.

BACKGROUND	LAST PROXY SEASON	THIS PROXY SEASON
Say on Pay Vote Result	66%	41%

- Shareholders and their proxy advisors likely maintained concerns with the high absolute and relative value of CEO pay, other aspects of the company's pay program (including use of time-based equity, perquisites, and CEO pledging of shares), and insufficient modifications to the pay program following a low vote in 2011.
- Shareholders' reactions were not contained solely to the Say on Pay proposal. Over 34% of shareholders withheld votes related to Compensation Committee members' reelections – and 25% of shareholders voted against an amendment to increase shares under the directors' stock plan.

CONTEXT	DETAILS
Company Performance	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Negative total shareholder return on a 1-year basis; performance below GICS and S&amp;P 500 on a 1-year and 3-year basis</li> <li>• Revenue increased by ~4% and Net Income increased by ~17%</li> </ul>
Pay Program	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• CEO base salary of $1</li> <li>• Annual incentive plan (AIP) funded based on performance in pre-tax profits; each NEO receives a target bonus opportunity equal to an explicit percent of growth in pre-tax profits over the preceding year. For the CEO, this percentage is 0.325% (a reduction from his prior-year target of 0.37%). Over the past three years, payouts under the plan have ranged from $3.9m to $13.34m</li> <li>• Long-term incentives (LTI) composed of stock options that vest over four years and have a ten-year term. CEO receives annual grants of 7m options (in 2012, valued at $91m)</li> </ul>
Compensation Arrangements and Practices	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• For 2011, reduced CEO target bonus opportunity from 0.37% of growth in pre-tax profits to 0.325%</li> <li>• No benchmarking process, though company acknowledges target pay is set above the average of its peers; Company has clawback policy and ownership guidelines</li> <li>• Proxy advisors question the value of the CEO's ongoing equity grants of 7m options given CEO ownership of ~23% of shares outstanding</li> <li>• Proxy advisors also express concerns with the CEO's security perquisite (valued at ~$1.5m for 2012) and pledging of 139 million shares as collateral</li> </ul>
ISS Proposal Summary Excerpts	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• "A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The company continues to maintain excessive compensation packages for its CEO and NEOs, primarily through mega option grants. Shareholders have also been funding sizable security expenses for CEO Ellison, who has amassed significant wealth through mega option grants. Equally concerning is the CEO's increased number of company shares pledged as collateral for his personal loans. Finally, the company has failed to specify actions taken to address the company's relatively low say-on-pay vote at the 2011 annual meeting."</li> </ul>

APPENDIX: 2012 SAY ON PAY VOTE RESULTS

LIKELY CAUSES OF VOTES UNDER 50% IN 2012 (SORTED BY MEETING DATE)

COMPANY	VOTE RESULTS	LIKELY CAUSES OF FAILED VOTE
PMFG Inc.	2012: 31% 2011: 92%	Increases in pay during sustained negative TSR performance and concerns over two problematic pay practices (acceleration of vesting of stock awards and tax gross-ups)
DFC Global Corp	2012: 25% 2011: 62%	High relative pay levels, above-median benchmarking on certain elements, problematic pay practices (e.g., excise tax gross-up provision in CEO's employment agreement), and concerns over the company's responsiveness to the 2011 Say on Pay proposal
Oracle Corp.	2012: 41% 2011: 66%	High relative and absolute pay levels, use of time-based equity, problematic pay practices (e.g., security perquisites, CEO pledging of shares) and concerns over the company's responsiveness to the 2011 Say on Pay proposal
RBC Bearings Inc.	2012: 28% 2011: 57%	High relative pay levels, above-median benchmarking on certain elements, guaranteed annual base salary increases for the CEO, and concerns over disclosure and the company's responsiveness to the 2011 Say on Pay proposal
Iconix Brand Group	2012: 30% 2011: 65%	Negative total shareholder return and concerns over CEO employment agreement (provisions providing cash compensation increases, magnitude of equity grants and cash bonuses in connection with agreement), limited disclosure of company peers, inclusion of aspirational peers, and rigor of performance goals
Applied Micro Circuits	2012: 42% 2011: 98%	Negative total shareholder return and concerns over large LTI grants (replacing those made with unachievable performance metrics), limited disclosure of performance goals, and problematic pay practices (above-median salary benchmarking, inclusion of larger peers)
Best Buy	2012: 38% 2011: 97%	Former CEO's separation package, time-based retention awards granted in the most recent fiscal year and poor stock performance over the one-year, three-year, and five-year periods
Kforce	2012: 39% 2011: 85%	High relative pay levels, above-median benchmarking on certain elements, problematic pay practices (e.g., excise tax gross-ups and no anti-hedging policy), and accelerated vesting of awards (the purpose of which was to offset a tax liability following the cash sale of its subsidiary)

COMPANY	VOTE RESULTS	LIKELY CAUSES OF FAILED VOTE
Cedar Realty Trust	2012: 38% 2011: 63%	Increases in CEO pay (stemming from a mega-grant made to a new CEO) during period of stock price underperformance value, as well as concerns over the provisions of a mega-grant to the CEO (vests fully under a termination without cause scenario), problematic pay practices (company entered into new employment agreements with “modified single-trigger” payments), and limited responses to 37% opposition to Say on Pay in 2011
Abercrombie & Fitch	2012: 25% 2011: 56%	“Problematic” CEO employment agreement leading to increases in reported CEO pay during period of declining stock prices; concerns over the time-based nature and size of potential equity grants under the employment agreement, as well as concerns over problematic pay practices, rigor of performance goals in the company’s LTI grants for other executives, and shareholder outreach following 44% opposition to Say on Pay in 2011
Sequenom	2012: 48% 2011: 97%	Increases in CEO pay during a period of decline in stock prices, as well as concerns over use of time-based equity, rigor of performance goals (stemming from company’s payment of maximum annual cash bonuses and lack of disclosure regarding annual bonus goals), above-median benchmarking, and problematic pay practices (no disclosure of clawback policies or holding periods)
Masimo Corp	2012: 38% 2011: 69%	Increases in CEO pay during period of negative total shareholder returns, coupled with concerns over payment of discretionary cash bonuses, time-based LTI design, problematic pay practices (tax gross-ups), and shareholder outreach following 31% opposition to Say on Pay in 2011
Chesapeake Energy	2012: 20% 2011: 58%	Concern over poor performance at company, high value – and discretionary nature – of CEO pay, problematic pay practices (high perquisite values; modified single-trigger under CIC; no clawback policy), and legacy agreement that allows CEO to invest in company business (and secure loans through his stakes in the business)
American Eagle Outfitters	2012: 40% 2011: 77%	Poor performance coupled with concerns over high value of outgoing CEO’s succession agreement; shareholders were also concerned over the time-vested nature of “make-whole” awards granted under incoming CEO’s employment agreement and above-median benchmarking practices
G-III Apparel Group LTD	2012: 35% 2011: 97%	Increases in CEO pay over most recent year despite negative shareholder returns, rigor of annual incentive plan (tied to a percent of pre-tax net income in excess of $2m; no cap on plan), rigor of performance-contingent features tied to long-term incentive grants, disclosure issues (no discussion of risk), and problematic pay practices (lack of formal clawback policy and stock ownership/ holding requirements)
Nabors Industries	2012: 25% 2011: 43%	Sustained poor performance, high CEO pay levels, and problematic pay practices; continued concerns over the company’s annual incentive plan. Limited credit given to the company for changes made following 2011 shareholder opposition (modified annual incentive plan; eliminated exposure to termination payment for outgoing CEO and halted contributions to outgoing CEO’s deferred compensation plan)

Epiq	2012: 30% 2011: 85%	Increases in CEO pay during period where shareholder returns have been negative, use of duplicative performance measures, and problematic pay practices (payment of dividends on unvested performance awards; lack of formal clawback policy and stock ownership/ holding requirements; pledging of shares by CEO and CFO)
Tutor Perini Corp	2012: 38% 2011: 49%	Poor stock performance coupled with high CEO pay and concerns over the company's peer group (which includes aspirational peers and above-median benchmarking on certain pay elements), use of duplicative performance metrics in the annual and long-term incentive plans, problematic pay practices, and engagement with shareholders following its 2011 vote; limited credit given to planned 2012 changes
Healthways Inc	2012: 32% 2011: 96%	Increases in CEO pay during a period of negative total shareholder return performance as well as concern over a retention award granted to the CEO, use of duplicative performance metrics, and problematic pay practices
United Online Inc	2012: 31% 2011: 79%	Poor shareholder return performance as well as time-based LTI, above-median benchmarking, problematic pay practices, and concerns over the rigor of the company's performance goals after the company reduced targets from 2010
Digital River Inc	2012: 19% 2011: 68%	Negative total shareholder returns despite reductions in pay; shareholders may also have concerns over the company's use of duplicative performance metrics, inclusion of outsized peers in their peer group, and the CEO's relatively high annual incentive opportunity. Shareholders may have also been concerned over the company's response to a 68% vote in 2011
NuVasive Inc	2012: 33% 2011: 82%	Continued negative total shareholder returns, coupled with CEO pay consistently above median, time-based LTI, and increases in base salary despite poor performance
Safety Insurance Group Inc	2012: 42% 2011: 68%	Poor stock performance in 2011 coupled with concerns over the company's response to opposition in 2011, time-based LTI, and problematic pay practices
Big Lots	2012: 31% 2011: 69%	Large CEO retention award with identical measure as annual incentive, coupled with concerns over poor operating performance, the short vesting period of the retention award, widening internal pay disparity, and the rigor and disclosure of LTI performance goals
Chiquita Brands	2012: 20% 2011: 86%	Continued negative total shareholder returns, coupled with concerns over increases in CEO pay and high pay relative to proxy advisor peers, disclosure of performance goals, and benchmarking practices
Rigel Pharma.	2012: 45% 2011: 53%	Negative total shareholder returns, coupled with minimal changes to program following low support in 2011, increased levels of time-based LTI, lack of disclosed goals for short-term incentive plan, and significant committee discretion under short-term incentive plan

COMPANY	VOTE RESULTS	LIKELY CAUSES OF FAILED VOTE
Chemed Corporation	2012: 48% 2011: 73%	Concern over high pay levels, time-based LTI design, above-median benchmarking, and clarity of disclosure related to company's pay programs
VCA Antech Inc	2012: 41% 2011: 58%	Continued negative total shareholder returns, as well as concerns over increases and magnitude of CEO pay (including large restricted stock grant in 2011), lack of rigorous goals in long-term incentive plan, and use of similar measures in both annual and long-term incentive plans
Kilroy Realty Corp	2012: 30% 2011: 49%	High CEO pay and mediocre performance relative to peers, coupled with concerns over disclosures, increased pay from amended CEO agreement, and time-based LTI
Simon Property Group	2012: 27% 2011: 97%	Time-based retention award related to amended CEO contract, as well as the termination provisions included in the amended contract
Palomar Medical	2012: 47% 2011: 90%	Increases in CEO pay during period of sustained poor stock performance, limited disclosure of annual bonus metrics, and time-based LTI design
Infinera Corporation	2012: 42% 2011: 96%	Poor financial performance coupled with high CEO pay, increases in LTI levels, mostly time-based LTI design, and limited disclosure of performance metrics in performance-based option plan
CryoLife	2012: 39% 2011: 73%	Negative total shareholder returns, as well as mostly time-based LTI design and concerns over CEO termination provisions
Hercules Offshore	2012: 48% 2011: 41%	110% year over year increase in reported CEO pay <sup>1</sup> as result of special retention and performance awards coupled with high relative CEO pay and proxy advisor concerns over performance plans (use of duplicative measures; annual incentive program is tied to a six-month performance period) and problematic pay practices; limited credit to changes made following 2011 failure (removal of tax gross-ups and share recycling, modification of equity terms to institute minimum vesting requirements, adoption of anti-hedging policy)
The Phoenix Companies	2012: 46% 2011: 90%	Negative total shareholder returns, and reported 8% CEO pay increase <sup>1</sup> ; use of similar performance metrics in annual incentive and long-term incentive plans
Community Health Systems	2012: 33% 2011: 87%	High pay and poor stock performance compared to similar GICS companies; lack of challenging performance goals (threshold goals in three incentive plans are set below prior year actuals), problematic pay practices (providing credit for additional years of service under pension plan, above-median benchmarking)

Viad Corp	2012: 21% 2011: 85%	Increases in CEO pay during period of sustained negative total shareholder returns as well as concerns over problematic pay practices (payment of dividends on unvested stock, above-median benchmarking practices, single-trigger change-in-control arrangements)
Pitney Bowes	2012: 35% 2011: 84%	Negative total shareholder returns, coupled with concerns over increasing pay levels, lack of rigorous goals in long-term cash plan, use of similar measures in both annual incentive and long-term incentive plans, and problematic pay practices
Gentiva Health Services	2012: 36% 2011: 97%	Poor total shareholder return performance, coupled with high value of CEO pay, problematic benchmarking practices (selection of peers of larger size), and time-vested LTI design
Knight Capital	2012: 32% 2011: 79%	Lagging total shareholder returns, as well as concerns over the absolute value of CEO pay, benchmarking above-median practices, time-vested LTI design, problematic pay practices, and rigor of cash bonus program (provides for eligibility towards minimum bonuses of $3M for pre-tax operating income in excess of $0)
Charles River Laboratories	2012: 36% 2011: 88%	Poor relative total shareholder return performance compared to similar GICS companies, problematic pay practices (discretionary perquisite allowances, excise tax gross-ups), and time-based LTI design
Argo Group International Holdings Ltd	2012: 46% 2011: 76%	Negative total shareholder returns, coupled with high relative pay, concern over the time-based nature of long-term incentive awards, lack of disclosure of goals in long-term incentive plan, and problematic pay practices
Comstock Resources	2012: 35% 2011: 67%	High value and discretionary nature of pay programs during period of continued poor stock performance. Also concerns over excise tax gross-up provisions and proposed 2012 practice to benchmark cash compensation above-median; limited credit for changes made following low 2011 Say on Pay vote (modified annual incentive plan in 2012 so that 50% of weight is tied to performance conditions; also introduced benchmarking practices)
OM Group	2012: 23% 2011: 80%	Increases in CEO pay coupled with poor stock performance as well as concerns over high relative value of pay, changes to the annual incentive program, benchmarking practices, and rigor of performance goals
Mylan	2012: 48% 2011: 64%	Continued high pay levels coupled with concerns over above-median benchmarking, problematic pay practices, mostly time-based LTI design, and extension of employment contracts with excise tax gross-ups for golden parachute payments; limited credit for changes made following a low 2011 Say on Pay vote (waived tax gross-ups on imputed income from aircraft/automobile usage, eliminated all tax gross-ups on perquisites, adopted policy not to enter into new agreements with officers with tax gross-ups on golden parachute payments)
