

Semler Brossy's Blair Jones Recognized as NACD Directorship 100™ Honoree

The 16th Annual NACD Directorship 100™ List Recognizes the Most Influential Corporate Directors and Governance Experts

April 20, 2022 – The National Association of Corporate Directors (NACD) announced the 2022 NACD Directorship 100™—the most influential peer-nominated leaders in the boardroom and corporate governance community. Included among this year's esteemed honorees is Blair Jones, Managing Director at Semler Brossy.

"Blair has long been one of the nation's foremost thought leaders on the complex relationship between corporate governance, company performance and executive compensation," said Roger Brossy, Managing Director at Semler Brossy. "Her research and critical thinking on ESG and HCM—stretching back for years now—have been incredibly insightful and impactful as boards carefully consider their mandate on these stakeholder issues."

Now in its 16th year, the NACD Directorship 100 awards recognize peer-nominated leading directors and governance professionals. Honorees are evaluated in four key categories: integrity, mature confidence, informed judgment, and high performance standards. A selection committee reviewed the nominees' histories of advancing board performance and leading corporate governance practices in accordance with established NACD principles. The principles are a framework that encourages excellence in areas that include risk oversight, corporate strategy, compensation, and transparency.

"The NACD Directorship 100 continues to honor those who have demonstrated exemplary board leadership and innovation in corporate governance," said Peter R. Gleason, NACD president and CEO. "We honor these individuals' forward-thinking minds and their ability to lead their board and organizations to current and future success."
